

Where We Are: A Photo Essay Contest

DEC. 4, 2024 - JAN. 15, 2025

Cindy Lozito

Inspired by the immersive New York Times series “Where We Are,” which focuses on young people and the spaces where they create community, we invite students to work alone or with others to make photo essays about the communities that interest them.

You can document any kind of offline community you like and feature people of any age.

Your photo essay must include...

Six to eight photographs

A description of no more than 75 words for each image

A brief introduction of up to 300 words

At least one quote from a community member

Contest Rules

- Find, interview and photograph any offline community of your choice.
- This contest is open to students ages 13 to 19 in middle or high school anywhere in the world.
- You can work alone or in a group of up to four people, but each student is allowed only one submission.
- Your work must be original for this contest.
- Your photo essay must be submitted by 11:59 p.m. Pacific time on Jan. 15, 2025.

Visit the contest page to see the full guidelines and submit.