Our Godavari - Riverfront and Cultural Design Competition

Terms and Conditions

1. All Indian citizens are eligible to participate in this competition.
2. The design submitted must be original. Plagiarism is strictly prohibited, and the design should not infringe on the Intellectual Property Rights (IPR) of any third party, including but not limited to the Indian Copyright Act, 1957. The applicant is solely responsible for ensuring the design is free from any copyright violations.
3. By submitting an entry, the applicant confirms that they are the original creator of the design and that the design, or any part of it, does not infringe upon any third-party intellectual property. If the design is found to violate any third-party rights, the application will be disqualified, and the organizers will not be liable for any infringement claims.
4. In the event of any copyright or intellectual property disputes, the applicant will bear full responsibility for resolving such issues, including any legal proceedings that may arise.
5. All entries must comply with the provisions of the Emblems and Names (Prevention of Improper Use) Act, 1950. Any violation will lead to immediate disqualification.
6. The design must not contain any content that is provocative, offensive, or inappropriate in nature.
7. The winner must provide the original open-source file of the design. The organizers will retain the intellectual property rights to the winning design, and the winner will not retain any rights over it.
8. The organizers reserve the right to modify, edit, or adapt the winning design, including adding or removing information or design features, with due credit to the original designer.
9. The winning design will be used by the organizers for promotional, educational, informational, or other purposes deemed appropriate. The winner acknowledges that the design may be used in various media.
10. The organizers will not notify applicants whose entries have been rejected.
11. The organizers reserve the right to amend or cancel any part of the competition, including its terms and conditions, technical parameters, and evaluation criteria. Any changes will be communicated through the platform used for the competition, and participants are responsible for staying updated on these changes.
12. Participants are solely responsible for ensuring their entries comply with all submission requirements, technical criteria, and the selection process. The organizers are not responsible for resolving any disputes arising from non-compliance.
13. The winner will be notified via email. The name of the winner may also be announced on the organizers' social media platforms and official website.
14. Proposals will be rejected if:
  - Submitted after the deadline.
  - Fail to meet the documentation requirements.
  - Include the participant's name in the submission or file name.
  - Participants contact members of the jury during the competition.
  - An individual is found to be submitting multiple entries.

By participating in this competition, the participant agrees to abide by all terms and conditions outlined above.
